Apply Now

Company: Bitnine Global Inc

Location: Morocco

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Bitnine (bitnine.net) is a database management system software vendor and data analysis services and solutions provider with offices in various parts of the world.

Apache AGE (github.com/apache/age) is an open-source project by the Apache Software Foundation, the world's largest open-source software foundation, for developing various Graph database technologies and applications.

Bitnine has been the major contributor of the Apache AGE project since Bitnine donated the AGE source code to the Apache Software Foundation.

We are looking for software engineer interns who are passionate about coding, love to tackle difficult programming challenges and are willing to learn how to modify open-source DBMS software such as PostgreSQL for creating advanced Graph database management system software technologies and applications in the Apache AGE open-source GitHub environment.

The internship is PAID and for 6 months (20 hours a week part-time / remote) with potential to extend, a job offer may follow based on performance.

The internship program is operated by our Canadian subsidiary, AGEDB Inc.

Responsibilities

Developing (open-source) Graph database management system software technologies and related applications using various programming languages including C, Python, Rust and JavaScript

Participating in an (open-source) Apache Top-Level Project Apache AGE as one of its contributor

Collaborating with the Bitnine's Apache AGE open-source community (internship) managers and technical project managers

Creating and updating technical writings about Apache AGE

Debugging and testing Apache AGE source code

Proactively learn about open-source DBMS software such as PostgreSQL including its internal mechanisms and how Graph queries work (Helps will be provided)

Requirements

Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science, Software Engineering or related area

Strong problem-solving abilities

Highly developed analytical and organizational skills
